Faculty Position
Economics

Interested candidates may apply by submitting a CV & cover letter to ParisCV@ceaStudyAbroad.com.

About CEA Study Abroad:

CEA Study Abroad provides international education programs for American and Canadian university students looking to earn college credit from fully accredited programs in Europe, Latin America, Africa and China. CEA's programs combine a student-centered curriculum, global competence, cultural sensitivity, and academic excellence. Programs include such topics as language studies, cultural competency, liberal arts, social sciences, international business and STEM. CEA is widely recognized for the quality of its programs and has a strong global brand in the education industry. CEA headquarters is located in Phoenix, Arizona.

Search:

For its 2023 Fall (September - December) programs the CEA Study Center in Paris seeks instructors with an advanced degree in Economics, or a related field, to teach our Comparative Economic Systems course (click hyperlink to view course syllabus), in English, to our American students.

Candidates should be able to demonstrate successful teaching experience preferably in US institutions or study abroad programs. Working experience outside of academia but within the field will be considered a plus. In addition to academic and professional qualifications, the successful candidate will demonstrate motivation for working with study abroad students, an aptitude for technologies related to the educational experience as well as intercultural competence.

About the course:

Contract hours: Approximately 45 per course
Teaching dates: September - December 2023 (specific term dates available upon request)
Language skills: English & French required
Teaching language: English
Remuneration: Commensurate with experience
Contract: Contrat de travail à durée déterminée d'usage et à temps partiel

Candidates must have legal status for employment in France.