

CEPN - UMR7234

Centre d'Économie de l'Université Paris Nord
UFR de Sciences Économiques et de Gestion
99, Avenue Jean-Baptiste Clément
F - 93430 VILLETANEUSE

☎ : +33 (0)1 49 40 32 55

☎ : +33 (0)1 49 40 20 83

The task group

“International macroeconomics and Post-Keynesian analyses”

is happy to announce the workshop

MODELLING AND ANALYSIS OF COMPLEX MONETARY ECONOMIES (MACME)

Friday, December 12th, 2014.

Université Paris 13, Villetaneuse Campus, Amphi A (Institut Galilée)

08.45-09.15 Arrival, registration and coffee

09.15-09.30 Welcome and introduction by David Flacher and Dany Lang (CEPN)

09.30-12.00 Session I: imbalances, crises and cycles

Chair: Michaël Clévenot (CEPN, UP. 13)

P. Boudes, J. David, C. Fouqueré, A. Gangemi (LIPN, UP. 13): Programing in a stock-flow consistent framework.

S. Kinsella (Limerick U.): Dynamic models of macroeconomic imbalances: theory and empirical analysis.

A. Roventini (Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna, Pisa): Keynes beyond Schumpeter: the short- and long-run damages of fiscal austerity.

A. Godin (Limerick U.): an event based approach to balance sheets dynamics.

T. Treibich (Maastricht U.): Micro and Macro policies in the K+S evolutionary models.

12.00-13.30 Lunch

13.30-16.00 Session II: debt, money and monetary policies

Chair: Jamel Saadaoui (U. de Strasbourg)

S. Keen (Kingston U.): The necessity of including banks, money and debt in economic multi agent models.

J. Marie (CEPN, UP. 13): Post-Keynesian monetary policy: some key elements to be included in agent-based models.

A. Cardaci (Lombardy Advanced School of Economic Research): Inequality, Households Debt and Financial Instability -An Agent-Based Perspective.

I. Salle - P. Seppacher (CEPN, UP. 13): Deleveraging crises and deep recessions: a behavioral approach.

F. Botte (U. Lille I): Harrodian Instability in an Agent-Based Model.

16.00-16.30 Coffee break

16.30-18.00 Session III: rationality and historical time

Chair: Emmanuel Labarbe (CEPN, UP. 13)

Y. Chevalyre (LIPN, UP. 13): Multi-agents modeling - from the reactive agent to the rational and learning agent.

D. Lang- F. Bassi (CEPN, UP. 13): Potential Output and Unemployment Hysteresis in a PKK agent-based model.

P. Seppacher (CEPN, UP. 13): SFC-ABM: why time matters.

19.00- Beer in Paris

